

Ron S. Miller, PT

Ron Miller is a 1993 University of Wisconsin-Madison graduate. He began practicing in acute care, rehabilitation, neuro, orthopedic and wound care settings. Since 1998 Ron has specialized in spine care. The NeuroSpine Center of Wisconsin recruited Ron in 2000 to head up and develop the physical therapy department. Ron focuses on manual therapy, spinal stabilization, therapeutic exercises, and is certified in dry needling to achieve optimal patient outcomes. Patients are encouraged to take an active role in their care enabling them to self-manage conditions more effectively. Ron enjoys working through complex patient conditions, attaining highest potential function, and improving quality of life. Additionally, he contributes both article and videos to Spine-health.com. In Ron's free time, he is a drummer, private pilot, enjoys hunting, fishing and following his son's hockey team.

The Leaders in Spine and Brain Care